Significant risk(s) for the Fund not taken into account in this indicator include the following:

Emerging market risk: A Fund which invests in emerging markets rather than more developed countries may encounter difficulties when buying and selling investments. Emerging markets are also more likely to experience political uncertainty and investments held in these countries may not have the same protection as those held in more developed countries.

Liquidity risk: Liquidity risk exists when particular investments are difficult to purchase or sell. This can reduce the Fund's returns because the Fund may be unable to transact at advantageous times or prices.

Financial, economic and political risks: Financial instruments are impacted by various factors, of which, without being exhaustive, the development of the financial market, the economic development of issuers who are themselves affected by the general world economic situation as well as economic and political conditions prevailing in each country.

Credit risk: The Fund invests in bonds, cash or other money market instruments. There is a risk that the issuer may default. The likelihood of this happening will depend on the credit-worthiness of the issuer. The risk of default is usually greatest with bonds that are rated as sub-investment grade.

Currency risk: The Fund invests in overseas markets. It can be affected by changes in exchange rates which may cause the value of your investment to decrease or increase.

Risk linked to the use of derivative instruments: The Fund uses derivative instruments, which means financial instruments whose value depends on those of an underlying asset. Therefore, fluctuations in the price of an underlying asset, even if minor, could lead to significant variations in the price of the corresponding derivative instrument. With the use of over-the-counter derivatives, there is a risk that the counterparty to the transactions will wholly or partially fail to honour its contractual obligations. This may result in a financial loss to the Fund.

"High yield" bonds risk: The Fund will invest in sub-investment grade bonds. These bonds may produce a higher level of income than investment grade bonds but at a higher risk to your capital.

For a comprehensive description of the risks, please see the "Risk factors" section of the prospectus.
